A very pretty wedding took place Sunday afternoon on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Haskell Jr., Auburn, when Miss Ruth Ellen Hodsdon of Gilead became the bride of James S. Haskell of Auburn and Biddeford.

The wedding party stood in front of massed cedars, against which were arranged baskets of gladioli. Rev. Benjamin D. Tibbetts, pastor of the Turner St. Advent Church, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Tibbetts played the wedding march.

The bride's gown was of white mousseline de sole and her veil was caught with a wreath of roses. She was attended by Mrs. Elmer Clark of South Paris as matron of honor, who wore silk organdie, and Miss Ruth F. Haskell, bridesmaid, wore a gown of orchid. Lois Ann Haskell and Carol Clark, flower girls, wore green and pink dresses. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Lewis W. Haskell 3d, and Arthur Haskell Clark was the ringbearer.

Mrs. Haskell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hodsdon of Gilead and a graduate of Gould Academy in the class of 1934. She is a graduate of the nurses' training school at Trull Hospital, Biddeford.

NEW SIGNS ERECTED

Three signs bearing the message, "This is Bethel, Maine," were put up last week at the principal approaches to the village. Single faced signs are located near the north end of the overhead bridge and at the junction of Cross Street and the Locke Mills road. A double faced sign is placed between Morgan's filling station and the corner of Church and Railroad Streets. This work has been under the supervision of the road signs committee of the Bethel Chamber of Commerce and has been financed principally by interested citizens of the town. Much credit is due O. A. Pratt of the committee for his part in the project. The matter of similar signs at the two other entrances to the village is now under consideration.

Bethel Republican Town Committee

BARROWS AND BERMAN

ADDRESS LOCAL RALLY

About 300 people packed the Grange Hall Saturday night to listen to Governor Barrows and Congressman Oliver.

Mr. Oliver was called home while on his way to Bethel from a rally at Sumner, much to the disappointment of his many Bethel friends.

Several selections were played by the Bethel Band. The County candidates on the platform were introduced by Gerard S. Williams, chairman of the town committee and candidate for representative to legislature.

Mrs. Fred Hanscom of Rumford gave a short talk on the work of the Young Republicans, and Benjamin Berman of Lewiston was repeatedly applauded during a speech of nearly an hour during which he answered many of the statements which had been made during the campaign by the opposing party.

The Governor was introduced by ex-Congressman Partridge of Norway. Mr. Barrows confined his address chiefly to accomplishments of his administration, speaking of the financial report which was recently put in the hands of every citizen of the State by order of the last legislature. He stated that although the State's summer business received a slight drop from the peak of 1937, some sections of the country had suffered as much as 35 per cent decrease. He offered explanations of several questions including the old age pension, and at the close of the meeting met and talked personally with many of those present.

HENRY B. SKEELE

The many friends of Henry B. Skeele are grieved to learn of his death which occurred on last Wednesday at his home in Savannah, Ga. For over 20 years Mr. and Mrs. Skeele have spent the summers at their home (the former Deacon Lovejoy place) at Hunt's Corner, Albany, and with their family have been welcome additions to the community life. Mr. Skeele was a distinguished leader in Savannah's civic and cultural life. A resident there since 1902, he was one of the founders of the Savannah Audubon Society and its president for 20 years, he was the head of the Family Welfare Society 10 years, and also a charter member and officer of the Juvenile Protective Association. He was one of the organizers and a former president of the Savannah Chapter of the English Speaking Union, and was for several years a trustee of the Telfair Academy of Arts and Sciences.

The Savannah Morning News of Sept. 1 said:

Mr. Skeele had been ill for several months and had made a heroic fight for recovery, having rallied several times from a condition which held little hope of recovery. He had recently reached his eighty-sixth birthday. A magnificent constitution and vitality sustained him through his long illness and he retained his interest in all affairs that were close to his heart until the last.

He was born at Hallowell, Me., August 21, 1852. He was the son of the Reverend John Parker Skeele and Elizabeth Blodgett Skeele. His marriage to Miss Edith Elizabeth Case, daughter of John R. Case, took place in Elmhurst, Ill., in 1890. About 12 years later they came to Savannah to live, when Mr. Skeele engaged in the roofing the business in Ludowici. He went to Europe in 1892 for the patents and after coming to Savannah and establishing the plant at Ludowici he remained in the business until his company was merged in 1906 with the Ludowici Celadon Company.

For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Skeele have lived at 116 West Gaston street. Their summers were spent in Bethel, Me., at their country home, Six Acres. Their son John Skeele of Wellesley, Mass., with his wife and children, and their daughter, Mrs. William G. Klein, of Alpine, Tenn., with her husband and little son, usually made up the family group during part of every summer.

Besides Mrs. Skeele, Mr. Skeele is survived by his son and daughter and four grandsons.

OXFORD COUNTY UNITED 4N PARISH

Twenty happy and enthusiastic young people returned Monday afternoon from a week at "Camp Manitou." They had had a wonderful week at Camp, where they had spent the mornings in study classes, and the afternoons in hobbies and recreation; with an address in the evening followed by a meeting around the Camp Fire. With the young people were Mrs. Will Green, who had served as nurse at the Camp; William Walker, who had spent a day or two at Camp and had come down to help with the transportation home; Mr. Gledhill, who had had charge of the Recreation, acting with Warren Palmer; and Mr. Bull, who had been Dean of the Camp. The Camp had been one of the largest in the series of fifteen, with over 235 enrolled. On Tuesday the Young People were meeting for a picnic supper to plan the activities for the Parish youth for the year.

The Council will meet this week Thursday at Center Lovell, and on Friday evening there will be a Circle Supper at Center Lovell. On Sunday there will be the regular services of the Parish at the usual hours.

We are very sorry to think that next week we will be losing from the Parish Mr. Gledhill, whose resignation has been handed to the Council. He is planning to study this fall at Union Seminary. Certainly he goes with the best wishes of the Parish, and with keen appreciation for the faithful service he has given the Parish.
